you the earthly way, will never forget about the greatest mother one can ever have. I love you and will preserve the memory of you forever. Ron

Mom, Each and every day I remember the beautiful moments shared with you. You were one of kind and can never be forgotten. Today's is May 6, 2008, last year this day May 6, 2007, you were with us on your last day on earth, I could just call and speak to you. It's hard to imagine after this day passes, I can not look back at last year this day and say my mom was with us this time last year. An entire year has now passed, and I have reflected a lot this year on the moments spent with you last year when you were with us comparing the months you were with us in 2007 to 2008. I know you are now in a better place now, that Jesus took you to heaven and made you an Angel to look over your family. But I still miss
